FULL-TIME OR PART-TIME?

- It takes on average, a total of 9 or 10 hours per week to complete one unit. This includes your 'in class' time as well as time required to complete readings, assessments etc.
- You can complete your study either full or part-time (unless you are an international student, in which case you must study 4 units each semester).
- 3 or 4 units studied during a single semester are considered full-time. If you are applying for Austudy you must complete either 3 or 4 units per semester.
- 1 or 2 units studied during a single semester is considered part-time.

UNITS OF STUDY:

- Most of these units are offered in both semester 1 and 2, some however, have pre or co-requisites.
- Pre-requisites – these are units you must complete PRIOR to completing the nominated unit. For example, you must complete COU801, prior to completing COU802.
- Co-requisites – these are units you can complete AT THE SAME TIME as the nominated unit. For example, you can complete COU802 at the same time as completing COU815. You can also complete co-requisites PRIOR to completing the nominated unit, but not after. For example, you would not be able to enrol in COU802 after COU815, it must be done either before, or at the same time.

UNIT CODES:

- COU indicates that the unit is a Counselling unit. Some units are also taught in Chaplaincy, and you will see them in the timetable noted with both a COU and CHA code.
- The number you see relates to the Australian Qualification Framework (AQF) number. All the units in the Graduate Certificate or the Graduate Diploma (except for Group Dynamics & Facilitation) are coded AQF 8. The first year of Masters is completed at AQF 8.
- AQF 8 level units and Group Dynamics & Facilitation must be completed PRIOR to commencing AQF 9 level units.

MODES OF DELIVERY:

- On Campus – the class is conducted on campus, and must be attended on campus
- Semi-intensive – the class is split into several days across the semester.
